MAJOR RECENT ANNOUNCEMENTS

- Kanab is working to revitalize its long-term strategic plan to add more value to the town’s existing resources. The state Legislature, Kanab, Kane County and Dixie State College are the primary fund contributors. Funds are currently being spent to develop a business plan and architectural renderings for a multi-use building for seminars, conferences and retreats. The project leaders are now looking to purchase land and build the center.¹
- The Kane County School District agreed to construct a 9,000-square-foot multiuse technical training facility close to the Kanab High School. This building will be leased to the Southwest Applied Technology College to provide technical training to high school and adult students.²
- A preliminary study shows an estimated 600,000 visitors to the Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument spend more than $88 million in Kane and Garfield counties. This popular destination has become Utah’s 10th most visited attraction.³
